BUDGET SURPLUS

Year Has Seen Further Recovery, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 6.—Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, the Secretary of the Treasury, in the course of his annual report says that the past year witnessed a further recovery from the depression, closing with bountiful harvests. The reduction in the gross debt during the year amounts to about 1,000,000,000 dollars. The balanced budget for 1922 is showing a surplus of 300,000,000 dollars.

The scarcity of labor is due both to restrictions of immigration and to the general resumption of business. The railroads are suffering under the maintenance of inadequate equipment and find it difficult to move the commodities demanded by business. The increased gold holdings of the country also tended to create expansion of credit.

The total foreign Government obligations due to the United States on November 15 amounted to 10,045,282,000 dollars of which 9,386,311,000 dollars represented loans under the Liberty Bond Act. The larger amounts under this head are Belgium $349,214,000; France $2,997,477,000; Great Britain $4,277,000,000; Italy $1,648,034,000; and Russia $187,729,000.

It Snew A Few

Two days ahead of schedule, Ta-hsueh drifted into Shanghai yesterday, creating a mixture of feelings among the inhabitants. It spelled good crops next season for some and consequently a more profitable concurrent season for others, visual delight to still others—and wet, cold feet to a good many more.

Ta-hsueh—meaning the Day of the Big Snow—is slated by the Chinese calendar to transpire on the 20th of the 10th moon. Yesterday was the 18th. Which is hitting pretty near the mark. Or maybe yesterday's demonstration was just in the nature of a curtain-raiser for the big flurry advertised for tomorrow.

Be those as they may, the big flakes started falling shortly before noon yesterday, and kept on falling, with varying degrees of intensity, until evening, frescoing the countryside and roofs with a delicate, glittering whaddyecallem, limning in frothy outline for at least a one-day's optical relief, the skeleton trunks along the recently P. W. D—d Bund. Chrysanthemum beds assumed the aspect of miniature Carolina plantations at cotton-picking time, chimney pots donned turbans of unusual hue and altogether it was simply just too perfectly altogether for words!

The foregoing paragraph is on the authority of Miss Sophia Sapp, who spent the whole afternoon observing the storm from her glass enclosed, steam heated sleeping porch and the electrically warmed vantage point provided by her limousine.

A riesha coolie who tried to recite "Snow Beautiful Snow!" to a knot of his barefooted fellows at the corner of Nanking and Canton Roads was mobbed and the body thrown into Yang King Pang.

Lloyd George Asks Aid To Agriculture

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 5.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Lloyd George strongly urged far-reaching and drastic overhauling of Agriculture as the only means of solving unemployment and securing national safety and prosperity.

Mr. Bonar Law said that he was willing to consider the advisability of instituting a commission of inquiry. In the meantime, he was considering the question of scientific farming and extension of credit facilities to farmers. S.M.C. CONSIDERS PURCHASE OF TWO PIECES OF LAND

May Buy Sites For New Central Fire Station And Market

The Municipal Council has under consideration the purchase of a new market site and a new site for the Central Fire Station, according to proceedings appearing in the current Municipal Gazette.

A site for the new market has been offered the Council in the North Shanse Road district, but the owners have asked a price much in excess of what the Council is prepared to pay. The Council has consequently decided to secure further information from the Health Department regarding the specifications for the new site before undertaking any further moves in the matter.

The Acting Fire Chief has indicated a specific property as meeting the required needs of the Department for the new site of the Central Fire Station and the property has been offered to the Council, with present buildings included, for Tls. 750,000. A new site is said to be required to take care of the department's central equipment, but in view of the price asked the Council is giving further consideration to the utilising of the Administration Building block as a site instead of making further purchases.

BETTER TERMS FROM PHONE CO. ON TARIFF RADII

Increase In Charges Due Though Raise In Rates Is Not Immediate

The Telephone Company has replied to the Municipal Council on the question of an extension in tariff radii with more favorable terms to the subscriber than those put forward by the Council, according to information in today's Municipal Gazette.

The Telephone Company states in communications to the Council that its letter was not intended as a request for an immediate raise in tariff, but merely pointed out that in view of the increased costs of operation such an increase would be necessary in the future.

It also announces its willingness to reduce the cost of installation where a subscriber moves to a house in which there is already a telephone installed to Tls. 5 instead of Tls. 10.

The company also suggests that the tariff be computed on a basis of the subscriber being within 2½ miles of any exchange and that the rates be the same as at present within that radius from the Central exchange.

Liquidators File Suit Against Far Eastern Bank Manager For Lire 6,500,000

Viscount di Villa Arrested On Complaint; Allege He Failed To Pay For 12,500 Shares In Institution Now Closed

The first big litigation arising out of the recent closing of the Far Eastern Bank has come to attention with the filing of a civil action in the Mixed Court by the liquidators, who seek to recover from Viscount E. M. di Villa, former co-manager of the bank, the sum of Lire 6,500,000 alleged due the institution in payment for shares subscribed to by the defendant.

The suit is brought on behalf of the bank by Dr. O. Fischer and Mr. G. Maranzana, liquidators, and Viscount di Villa was arrested at the Astor House Tuesday night on a Mixed Court warrant by Sub-Inspectors Woodfield and Sale. Italian Assessor Ferrajolo and Magistrate Loh, issuing a summons for immediate security on November 25, placed the security at Tls. 60,000—shop. The defendant attended at the Mixed Court yesterday morning and was unable to put up the shop security required, but it was understood last evening that the matter of shop security may be waived by the prosecution and a second party guarantee for appearance be accepted. The case is expected to come up for hearing within the next few days.

The statement of claim filed by the liquidators declares that the defendant is indebted to the bank to the extent of Lire 6,500,000 alleged subscribed by him for 12,500 shares in the institution at Lire 500 each, whereas this capital was never paid in by him. It further alleges that the defendant was co-manager from the time of organisation of the bank in August, 1921 until July, 1922, and as such made several changes in the books for which he was unable to give any reason or explanation. Also, that in spite of demands made, the plaintiffs were unable to obtain necessary books, documents and vouchers showing the initial transactions of the bank, and that though repeatedly asked to do so, the defendant failed to give necessary information to the liquidators with reference to capital alleged paid up by him.

The plaintiffs ask the court to order defendant to pay up the capital subscribed by him and to hand over all books and documents belonging to the bank.

CLOSED SEPTEMBER 9th

The bank was closed by the Italian authorities on September 9, together with the International Gold and Silver Currency Stock and Produce Exchange, on the ground that Italian interests were no longer represented in these institutions. A few days later the liquidators intimated that suits aggregating $20,000,000 might be instituted against former officers and shareholders.

At that time it was stated with reference to the Viscount di Villa that shortly after his resignation, which was on July 7 of this year, in order to protect himself he had secured, in the presence of Dr. Fischer and bank officials, a letter stating that the books had been gone over and that he was absolved from blame in connection with any subsequent developments and that no charge could be made against him on account of any money, securities or actions in connection with either the bank or the exchange. The statement was signed by the managing director, manager and sub-manager of the bank.

The reason for Viscount di Villa's being sued in the Mixed Court is that his registration at the Italian Consulate lapsed last April, since which time he has not been given recognition by the Italian authorities. He was born in Belgium, his father an Italian born in France and his mother an English woman. He has recently been in negotiation for the securing of British registration.

SEAMAN GIVEN JAIL TERM FOR DESERTING POST

Lobingier Sentences Man Who Left Dangerous Boilers Unattended

James Lagosh, an 18-year old fireman on the steamer Apus will be taken to Bilibid prison in Manila this morning after having been arrested, held by the United States Commissioner's Court, and tried, convicted and sentenced by Judge Charles S. Lobingier in the United States Court for China in record time. He will serve 3 months and 1 day in prison.

Lagosh was arrested yesterday morning by United States Marshal Thurston E. Porter on charges preferred by Captain W. Thornroth of the Apus that he had absented himself from duty while the steamer was in Yokohama harbor, allowing the boilers to be unattended and endangering the steamer and all on board.

Captain Thornroth and six other members of the crew were called to testify. Captain Thornroth said that Lagosh had left the engine room without notifying anyone or getting a substitute to take his watch, and had been found asleep in his bunk by the third engineer. Lagosh admitted that he had been drinking.

Lagosh, testifying in his own defense, said that he was from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and had signed on the Apus at San Francisco. When the ship arrived at San Pedro he was made a wiper. He denied that he was asleep in his bunk, saying that he had just finished breakfast. He had no idea that the boilers were dangerous, he said.

DANGEROUS ACT

Major C. P. Holcomb, Acting U. S. District Attorney, who prosecuted for the government, asserted that Lagosh was extremely neglectful of his duty. The lives of all the men on the ship were in his hands, he said, and Lagosh had neglected his duty. If safety valves had not been attended to promptly there was every chance of a terrific explosion occuring which would have wrecked the ship and killed the men aboard.

United States Commissioner Nelson E. Lurton held Lagosh for trial in the United States Court at the conclusion of the hearing yesterday morning, and Judge Lobingier, on the same evidence, sentenced him to three months and one day in Bilibid at the trial yesterday afternoon.

Marshal Porter immediately denutised Captain Thornroth a Deputy United States Marshal and turned the prisoner over to him to be taken to Manila on the Apus this morning. Lagosh will serve a little over two months in the Manila prison, being allowed to serve the last 28 days of the sentence on board an Army transport en route to the United States from Manila.

JAPANESE IS ARRESTED ON HOLDUP CHARGE

Held As Suspect For Automobile Robbery Near Del Monte

A Japanese named S. Asahi was arrested yesterday as a suspect in the robbery by Japanse automobile bandits of $1,000 from two Chinese exchange shop assistants near the Del Monte Cafe.

The Japanese was arrested on complaint of the manager of the Tuck Chang Iron Works that he had misappropriated Tls. 162.43 and $88.80, and when placed under arrest by a Japanese detective, was recognised as a suspect police were searching for. He was placed with a number of other Japanese in the Hongkew station yesterday and immediately identified as one of the two Japanese who entered the automobile at the Garden Bridge and later compelled the clerks to give up the $1,000 they were carrying to be exchanged for yen.

Following his identification Asahi was charged in the Japanese Consular Court and the case remanded for one week pending further investigation. Asahi has not confessed that he participated in the robbery despite the identification.

IRISH FREE STATE NOW A DOMINION, HEALY GOVERNOR

All Classes Pleased With Choice For Governor-General

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 5.—On the appointment of Mr. Timothy Michael Healy to the Governor-Generalship of the Irish Free State President Cosgrave and General Mulcahy arrived at Holyhead last night to meet Mr. Healy from London. They warmly congratulated him on his appointment and accompanied him to Dublin this morning.

President Cosgrave, interviewed, said that Mr. Healy's appointment was very popular with all classes. He hoped that it would mark the turning-point in Ireland's career.

Mr. Cosgrave was confident that Ireland's condition was rapidly improving as was evidenced by the large increase of exports this year. He concluded that the union of north and south could not long be delayed for a dividing line was unnatural.

London, Dec. 5.—Mr. William Cosgrave's unexpected meeting of Mr. Timothy Healy at Holyhead was the first confirmation of the long current report of Mr. Healy's appointment which has not been officially anounced though the duties of the Governor-General begin at midnight when the Irish Free State comes into existence as a British Dominion after the Royal assent has been given to the Constitution Bill. A special Order in Council has already handed over the administration of the country to the Provisional Government, hence there will be no ceremony of any kind tomorrow to mark the fulfilment of the Treaty.

In the House of Lords today the Royal assent was given to the Irish Constitution Bill by a Royal Commission in the customary form. Subsequently Mr. Healy's appointment as Governor General was officially announced.

New York, Dec. 5.—The American papers comment on the selection of Mr. Healy as Govrnor-General of the Irish Free State as a stroke of political genius and tact.

London, December 5.—The last hours of the Irish Provisional Government were full of anxiety. Elaborate precautions were taken to ensure the safety of the members of the Dail Eireann in anticipation of the possibility of a final attempt by irregulars to delay the legal enactment of the constitution.

Mr. William Cosgrave's departure from Dublin last night was kept secret and his arrival at Holyhead was unexpected.

It was announced in Dublin tonight that Mr. Cosgrave had been ordered a two month's rest cure. He has been advised to go to the South of France.

The police at Liverpool have seized 25,000 rounds of ammunition and 12 casks of chemicals on two ships leaving for Ireland.

Tong now being held on a charge of obtaining $5,000 under false pretences from Miss Zih Zang-tseng, who committed suicide in the office of the Journal of Commerce about three months ago, has appealed to both the Cantonese Guild and the Amalgamated Street Unions to secure the release of her husband on bail. Tong is an officer of both the guild and the union.

After arguing at length that her husband could not have failed to deliver certain shares bought by him for deceased, Mrs. Tong stated that all her husband's private and public business has been held up since his arrest and detention three weeks ago, while both the family and the Shanghai Journal of Commerce which Tong was manager, have experienced great hardship as a result of the lawsuit.

S.M.C. TURNS DOWN SCHEME TO BUY HOME FOR MUSEUM

Refuses Request For Taels 75,000 To Buy French Club

IS NOT JUSTIFIED

Cites Need For Bridges And Sewer System As Immediate

The Municipal Council has turned down the proposition submitted to it by Mr. A. de C. Sowerby for Municipal aid to the proposed purchase of the French Club for a Shanghai Museum, according to information published in the Municipal Gazette today.

Mr. Sowerby requested the Council's support of a scheme providing for the purchase of the French Club's property and the converting of it into a museum. The proposal was to purchase the property for Tls. 200,000, and Mr. Sowerby's request was for the Council to take the lead and guarantee the sum of Tls. 75,000, which is required at once to close the bargain with the French Club.

Upon consideration the members have decided unanimously that the Council would not be justified at the present time in making a grant towards the provision of a museum, which should more properly in their opinion be provided for by public subscription or benefaction, particularly since so many urgent and important public improvements including the completion of the sewerage scheme and the construction of bridges across the Soochow Creek remain to be dealt with at considerable cost, while very heavy expenditure will be involved in the contemplated purchase of the Waterworks undertaking.

Apart from this the particular proposal to convert the French Club buildings into a suitable museum building would entail a certain amount of internal structural alterations and members consider and are advised that better results could be obtained by the erection of a building especially designed for the purpose. The Council also was uncertain on the question of support for an institution situated outside the Settlement.

The Council's refusal to guarantee the Tls. 75,000 needed makes it necessary for the community committee, headed by Mr. G. H. Stitt, which was appointed following the movement set in motion by the Rotary Club, to make an appeal to civic institutions and citizens if the proposed museum is to become a reality.

BEVAN GUILTY ON FRAUD CHARGES; TO SERVE 7 YEARS

Fire Insurance Official Convicted On 15 Counts

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 5.—Mr. Gerard Bevan, ex-Chairman of the City Equitable Fire Insurance Company, who was charged with fraudulent conversion and obtaining money by false pretenses by inducing people to take shares in the City Equitable Fire Insurance Company and the City Equitable Associated through publishing false balance sheets and prospectuses, was today found guilty at the Guild Hall and sentenced to seven years penal servitude.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 5.—Well-known City men and a number of women were among the crowd at the Old Bailey at the closing scene of the Bevan trial.

Mr. Justice Avory, summing up, referred to the suggestion that Mr. Bevan's responsibility as Chairman of the City Equitable Fire Insurance Company was no greater than that of other directors and declared that Bevan was undoubtedly the dominating spirit in the Company's financial affairs.

Alluding to a certain war bonds transaction of £20,000 and the defendant's explantion of it as window-dressing, His Lordship expressed astonishment that such a transaction was possible in the City today.

The Jury convicted Bevan on 15 counts, adding a rider that the offences were possible owing to the other directors not doing their duties.

Mr. Justice Avory, sentencing Bevan, emphasised the effect of the prisoner's conduct in destroying the confidence of the public in the insurance business and the injury he had done to the City's commercial reputation, while the offence was aggravated by his flight.

Fine Dairyman $50 For Distributing Adulterated Milk

The Chinese proprietor of the Hongkew Dairy appeared in the Mixed Court yesterday and was fined $50 for distributing milk in the Settlement which had been obtained outside and which on analysis proved to have been adulterated with 13.4 percent of added water.

Sanitary Inspector Burton testified that the man was brought up as a consequence of having delivered a bottle of milk to Mrs. A. R. Kepler, 61 Range Road, which the latter suspected of being adulterated. She submitted it to the health department for analysis and the adulteration was discovered. The defendant, it was testified, had been delivering large quantities of milk to a local foreign school.

The dairy man admitted in court that he had obtained the milk outside the Settlement. A number of his own cows, he said, were sick.

YOUR ESTATE IS YOUR MONUMENT

SOMEONE has said that when a man dies there are two things he must leave behind: his material possessions and his reputation. These things are related, and the latter depends largely on the former.

IF a man has lived and kept his family in comfort during his life, but passes away without having made proper provision for their support, it will certainly appear as a serious blemish on his reputation,—as an evidence of disgraceful negligence or selfishness.

THIS danger can be provided against, certainly and effectively, by an adequate life insurance policy in a strong company.

In place of the Tuesday repeat performances two extra symphony concerts will be given on the first and third Thursdays in each month. Admission charges will be the same as for the Sunday concerts, 20 cents, 50 cents, and $1.

The Council's orchestra and band committee has also recommended that 2,000 chairs, instead of 1,200 as at present, be provided for Hongkew Park concerts next Spring, and that, because of the success of the Hongkew Park concerts, a bandstand be erected in Jessfield Park, and concerts be given there next Spring.

Railway Between Manchurian Capital And Hailungfu Planned For Army Labor

(Special To The China Press)

Mukden, November 27.—Important representatives of the military and civil authorities of Fengtien met at the office of Marshal Chang Tso-lin yesterday and decided to formulate plans for the retrocession of Port Arthur and Dalny in accordance with the wishes of the people of the Manchurian Provinces.

The proposal of General Chang Hsueh-liang for the construction of the Mukden-Hailungfu Railway by army labor has been regarded by Japanese as directly detrimental to the interest of the South Manchurian Railway. Japanese here fear that this is a scheme to acquire the South Manchurian Railway eventually. Bitter attacks are being made by them against General Chang. According to the plan of the proposed railway, the line will cut across both the Sungari and the Liao Ho, competing most effectively with the Japanese railway.

Lightner's Trial Has Been Held

United States Marshal Thurston E. Porter has received a letter from Mr. Lester W. Humphreys, District Attorney at Portland, Oregon, with the information that Dave Lightner's trial had been set for November 23. It is assumed Lightner's trial took place at the time although no other information has since been received.

Lightner, it will be remembered, escaped from the American jail here after having been arrested on board a freight steamer charged with dealing in narcotics in Portland. He jumped his bail in the Oregon city and fled to China. He was recaptured on board the s.s. West Farollone enroute to San Pedro, California.

WU 'SPARING NO EFFORT' TO CHECK BANDITS, HE SAYS

Asks Legations To Give Him Little More Time

(China Press Service)

Peking, Dec. 5.—Gen. Wu Pei-fu has dispatched a telegram to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs for transmission to the Diplomatic Corps in reply to the latter's recent protest with respect to the brigandage in Honan which is so gravely affecting foreign interests there. He prefers that the foreign investigating commission hold off awhile, he says.

Gen. Wu expresses his regret that the British, French, American, Italian and Swedish nationals, who were captured by the bandits, have not yet been rescued. He attributes the failure of his attempt to liberate the foreigners to the widespread character of the bandit movement, which can hardly be suppressed in a short time.

Gen. Wu states that he has appointed Gen. Chin Yun-ao Commander-in-chief of Bandit Extermination and informs the Diplomatic Corps that he assumes the responsibility of according due protection to the lives and properties of foreigners residing in regions within his jurisdiction.

The Diplomatic Corps is further informed that no effort is being spared to effect the release of the foreigners held by the bandits. With a view to ensuring the safety of the foreigners, he is adopting a policy of "pacification" with respect to the bandits.

Gen. Wu adds that investigation is also being made of the addresses of foreigners in the different parts of Honan in order to send troops for their protection. Therefore, while he welcomes the idea of the Diplomatic Corps appointing an international mission to Honan in connection with the bandit question he suggests that the despatch of the commission be postponed, inasmuch as the object of the commission is already being attended to by the Chinese authorities concerned.

During the ensuing discussion it was resolved that, as the final Shantung Agreement would be signed that day, the President should immediately send to Parliament the nomination of General Chang Shou-tseng as Premier. This was done, the present Premier, Mr. Wang Tah-hsieh, countersigning the nomination.

The Second Section of the Shantung Local Agreement was signed at six o'clock yesterday evening.

Dr. C. T. Wang assumed his office of Foreign Minister this morning and is leaving this afternoon for Tsingtau with the object of preparing to take over the administration of the Leased Territory, which is scheduled for December 10.

Vatican Fears For Christians' Safety

(French Wireless through Retuer)

Paris, Dec. 5.—The Vatican has sent a note to the President of the Lausanne Conference, declaring that the situation of Christians in the Near East is becoming more and more alarming and many are departing. The Note pleads urgently in the name of humanity that the most prompt and effective measures shall be taken to reassure the population.

Police Circular Describes Murder Victim's Property

In an effort to obtain a clue to the murderer or murderers of Bernard Goldenberg the Commissioner of Police yesterday issued a circular describing in detail the property which is believed to be missing from Mr. Goldenberg's effects.

The original theory of the murder was that robbery was the motive as three rings, a watch, and other articles including keys to Mr. Goldenberg's trunks and the theater safe containing a large amount of money were missing. If the motive was robbery police hope that the robber-murderers have attempted to pawn or sell the stolen property and that they will be able to obtain some trace of the slayers.

The list of property is as follows:

One gold finger ring set with a diamond weighing 5½ or 6 carats.

One gold finger ring set with two small diamonds and one ruby in claw setting, weight of each diamond about ¾ carat,

One gold Masonic finger ring having two eagles embossed on seal.

One open faced nickle watch.

One open faced 18 carat gold very heavy chronometer watch. Swiss make. Inside back case is a description in French of medals awarded the makers at Paris Exhibitions.

One 14 carat gold chain, about 12 inches in length, ½ inch long flat links joined by small fold rings.

One gold penknife about 3 inches long with the two steel blades rather rusty.

One German Military Pattern 9 m.m. automatic pistol bearing the makers name "LUGER" together with the number of a German Regiment stamped thereon. This pistol also bears the monogram either "R. H. C." "R. H. N." or "R. C. H." and magazine will hold ten rounds.

One "Milner" safe key.

One key ring and chain containing a few keys.

One door key.

No new information concerning the tragedy has come to light. It is understood that Mrs. Goldenberg, the widow, will shortly leave Shanghai with her children. His aged mother, however, is said to have announced her intention of remaining here.

U. S. Resolution Asks Turkey To Spare Christians

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 6.—A resolution has been introduced in the House of Representatives expressing the hope of the American Government that Turkey will take measures "to stay the hand of fanaticism and lawless violence and assure the Christians in Turkey of all their rights."

Sofia, Dec. 6.—A band of Macedonian autonimists reported to be numbering some thousands have seized the town of Kustendil and have cut off communication with the Capital a hundred miles distant. The band arrested some inhabitants and took over the administration. With the exception of one woman killed no excesses have been reported. The Government is taking steps to suppress the movement of which there are no signs of spreading.

London, Dec. 6.—It is reported from Athens that at a meeting of the inhabitants of Tenedos a resolution was passed emphasising the determination of the island to remain an integral part of Greece and declaring that if the island is annexed by Turkey the entire population will depart after setting fire to the town and villages.

Athens, Dec. 5.—General Papoulas has been released.

State Dep't Denies Oil Grab Charge

Washington, Dec. 2.—The State Department today issued a sweeping denial of the charges by Europe that she is maintaining her position in regard to the Lausanne conference for the purpose of obtaining greater oil concessions in Palestine for the Standard Oil Company. Europeans papers came out yesterday with the statement that the United States was pursuing her present course of action simply to secure the holdings which now belong to the Dutch Shell Company's and other British Oil concerns.

(French Wireless through Retuer)

Paris, Dec. 5.—The Temps states that the French, British and Italian naval and military experts have agreed on the text of a common plan, which will be submitted for examination to the Straits Commission. The Italians have not maintained their previous reservations.

In these circumstances it is believed that the plenary meeting of the Straits Commission will be held tomorrow, when the Turks and Russians will be present. The Temps adds:

"Rumania maintains very clearly the solution of the question of the liberty of the Straits in opposition to the Russian thesis which tends to make the Black Sea a closed sea. Turkey herself will perhaps one day congratulate herself for not having been left alone in the Straits face to face with Russia."

The sub-commission, which is discussing the damage to the property of Allied firms in Turkey, has had to adjourn its sittings without arriving at a result in spite of the conciliatory efforts of the delegations of the Powers.

(Reuter's Service)

Lausanne, Dec. 5.—It has now been arranged that the Straits Commission shall sit tomorrow to continue the discussion on the freedom of the Straits when The Allied views on the matter, which are in complete accord, will be communicated to the conference.

It is hardly possible to say what the Russians and Turks will do but it is considered probable that they will ask time for consideration.

The Financial Subcommission today discussed the Turkish proposal to allocate part of the Ottoman Public Debt to the succession States of Turkey. The French representative on the Ottoman Public Debt Administration favored the proposal but the British representative objected to it. The Turks requested time to reply.

The discussion was adjourned till Thursday.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Dec. 5.—The Lausanne correspondent of the Petit Parisien asserts that, while Earl Curzon and M. Barrere are completely agreed with regard to the Straits, the Italians are inclined to agree to M. Chicherin's proposal, and Marquis Garroni has telegraphed to Rome for fresh instructions.

ARE YOU GETTING OLD BEFORE YOUR TIME?

If you feel a growing dissatisfaction with life, and ill health seems to threaten you without the symptoms of any specific disease showing, your nerves are probably undernourished because your blood is thin.

Take a moment to examine into your own case. Have you lost the ability to make a quick decision and take prompt action whenever necessary, or do your work and hesitate in indecision, and consume an undue amount of time over things that you used to do quickly? Are you prematurely old?

Don't let the arteries in your brain get hard. Don't let thin blood starve your nervous system. Proper diet for the first, and a good tonic, Dr. Williams' pink pills, for the second, are what you need.

The purpose of Dr. Williams' pink pills is to build up the blood. They do this one thing and they do it well. They are for this reason an invaluable remedy in diseases arising from bad or deficient blood, as rheumatism, neuralgia, indigestion, after-effects of the grip and fevers. The pills are guaranteed to be free from opiates or any harmful drug and cannot injure the most delicate system.

Thanksgiving Notable Event At Huchow

(China Press Service)

Huchow, Nov. 30.—Thanksgiving Day was celebrated this year by the American Community of Huchow with unusual eclat, owing to the presence of several distinguished visitors, Bishop Hay and family, Dr. and Mrs. Pinson, and Miss Howell, all of whom are spending a few days in the city, looking over the work of the Methodist Mission and holding conferences with the workers.

The Thanksgiving address was given by Dr. Pinson, Senior Secretary of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church South. This address was powerful and inspiring to the highest degree. The audience will not soon forget the fervor and eloquence with which the speaker enforced his theme that America with a history so unique as to be incapable of interpretation except as providentially directed, has arisen to the position of big brother to the nations, to whom she must extend a helping hand, or prove forever recreant.

After the address the audience gathered in the spacious dining rooms of Ivey Home and partook of a typical Thanksgiving dinner: turkey and sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce and plum pudding, with all the extra appendages that the combined housewifely skill of the community could devise.

At the conclusion of the dinner toasts were proposed to the visitors: by Miss Rankin to Bishop Hay, by Miss Bloodworth to Miss Howell, by Nelson to the Baptist Mission, and by Miss White to Dr. and Mrs. Pinson. These speeches with the replies to them scintillated with wit and humor intermingled with fervent expressions of appreciation and good wishes. This day being the 40th anniversary of the marriage of Dr. and Mrs. Pinson, a silver bowl of Huchow workmanship was presented to them by Miss White as a gift of the Methodist Mission.

The evening's entertainment closed with the reading by Miss Smith of rhymed toasts to every member of the party who had not been specifically mentioned previously. All of these were excellent and some were especifically witty. As there were forty-two guests at the long table, the preparation of so many skits of so high an order was a task of no mean ability.

"Health Better than it has been for Years."

Our portrait is of Mrs. WOODROW, of 56, Robinson Road, Tooting, London, England, whose husband writes:

"My wife has suffered very badly for the past four or five years with Piles, being unable to sleep at night or get any relief during the day. She tried several advertised remedies, none of which did her any good. Some three weeks ago she thought she would try 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and before she had taken half a bottle she was better, and by the time she had finished the second bottle she was quite cured. She can now sleep well, eat well, and get about her work, and her general health is better than it has been for years." In a further letter some eight months later Mr. Woodrow writes: "I am pleased to say that since my wife's cure of Piles in September, 1918, there has been no sign of return of the trouble."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious. Of all Dealers. Ask for and see you get

TWO NO-HIT GAMES ALL LAST YEAR

Robertson Of Chicago And Barnes Of Giants Earn Honor

HEAVY BATTING

Baseball Season In U.S. Featured By Wild-Eyed Clouting

Two no-hit games, the seventh and eighth in the history of the major league, were the pitching features in 1922, American baseball, a season marked by heavy and continuous hitting.

Charlie Robertson of the Chicago White Sox sprang from a rookie's lowly estate to baseball fame by turning back the Detroit Tigers without a hit on April 30, and Jess Barnes, the New York Giants' veteran, entered the hall of fame May 7, a week later, by pitching almost perfect ball against the Philadelphia Quakers.

Robertson also added to his laurels by pitching a two-hit game on June 13 against the Boston Red Sox. Barnes did not pitch any more spectacular games during the season, but his consistent work was one of the biggest individual factors in his team winning the pennant and then trouncing the New York Yankees in the World's Series.

There were two one-hit games in the National League and none in the American, but the younger organisation led in the number of two and three-hit games that pitchers recorded. There were 13 two-hit games in the American against five on the National, and 16 three-hit contests in the American compared to 13 in the National.

Bill Doak of the St. Louis Cardinals twirled both the one-hit games, the first on May 11 against the Giants, and the second on July 13 against the Philadelphia Quakers. Urban of the Chicago White Sox and Stanley Coveleski of the Cleveland Indians each pitched three three-hit games, and Van Gilder, the heavy-hitting moundsman of the Browns, finished two three-hit games in the American League's total of 16. Urban Shocker, another Brown star, finished one three-hit game and worked in another with Pitcher Bayne.

Jack Quinn of the Red Sox and Charley Robertson of the Chicago Americans were the only men in the American League to pitch both a three-hit and two-hit game. Quinn accomplished the first against the White Sox on July 26, and the latter against the Indians on August 25. The other three-hit pitchers in the American League were: Leverette and Robertson, White Sox; Stoner, Tigers and Collins, Red Sox, and Harris Athletics.

Herman Pillette of the Tigers turned in three two-hit games, an unusual accomplishment, and Joe Bush, the fork ball star of the Yankees who is now in Japan with Hunter's big league team, twice let the opposition down with two hits. Other two-hit pitchers in the American League are: Bayne, St. Louis; Robertson of the White Sox; Quinn and Pennock of the Red Sox; the latter also being in Japan at present: Mays and Jones, Yankees; Erickson, Senators, and Uhle, Indians.

The two-hit pitchers of the National League are: McNamara, Braves; Aldridge and Osborne, Cubs; Jess Haines, Cardinals, who also twirled one three-hit game, and Couch, Reds, also with a three-hit game to his credit. The other three-hit pitchers are: Rixey, Donohue, Couch, Luque and Markle of the Reds; Shriver and Grimes of the Robins, Meadows of the Quakers, Toney of the Giants, Cooper and Adams of the Pirates.

WALTER Hagen, who last summer won the British Open Championship, the most coveted of all golfing titles, and who with Joe Kirkwood, the Australian, is expected to visit Shanghai next spring for an exhibition game, established a record in his last season's play that probably never was equalled, and which in all likelihood will stand for a long time to come.

During the summer Hagen took part in 150 major competitions and his grand average for the whole season was seventy one and one-eighth strokes per round.

As showing how difficult it is to negotiate a golf course in 71 strokes it might be mentioned that the record for the Kiangwan course here in Shanghai, over which thousands of rounds have been played, is 73. And Kiangwan, compared to most of the courses over which Hagen played last summer, is ridiculously easy. In the first place Kiangwan is at least 500 yards shorter than the average course at home, and more than a thousand yards shorter than many of them. And besides being longer, the courses over which Hagen played are much more severely bunkered and trapped than the local links, especially around the greens.

IN ESTABLISHING this remarkable record Hagen played in all kinds of weather and under all sorts of conditions. Some rounds were played after long trips by steamer or train, and some after long and wearying automobile journeys. Sometimes he played in rain, or over courses that were half under water. Once he played in a snowstorm, and on many occasions he had to fight his way through gales. He won the British championship in a wind that at times almost blew him off his feet.

On three occasions Walter turned in cards of 65, at Springfield, Massachusetts, Forest Hills, New Jersey, and Hamilton, Ohio. He had two rounds of 66, two of 67, and more than a score in 69. Only three times during the summer was he over 80 and his highest score was 83. In the qualifying round for the British open he led the pack and his average for the six rounds was 73 and a fraction. At Skokie, in the American open, his average for the six rounds was less than 72, lower than that of any other player. And all these astonishing scores, mind you, were made in competition, some of it the stiffest competition the world affords.

HAGEN IS AN absolute master of every shot known to golf, but that, in itself, does not account for his wonderful achievements as a medalist, for there are scores of golfers in England and America who are his equal in that respect. His greatest asset, perhaps, is his boldness. Walter's one big theory in golf is to get up to the pin and almost invariably, when he is with-

Recs Team And Engineers To Play For Charity Cup At Annual Boxing Day Game

The honorary secretary of the Shanghai Football Association announces that Mr. John Prentice presided at a meeting held on Tuesday evening to make arrangements for the playing of this year's match for the Marine Engineers' Charity Cup.

It was decided that the match be played, as usual, on Boxing Day, and that the Marine Engineers and the Shanghai Recreation Club be invited to compete for the Cup. Last year the holders, the Engineers, defeated the Shanghai Football Club by two goals to one, after one of the best games of soccer seen in Shanghai for many a while. In 1920 Mr. G. F. Forshaw's XI defeated Mr. J. A. Quayle's XI by the only goal scored.

Since its inception in 1909, the Marine Engineers' Charity Football Cup competition (not to be confused with the Marine Engineers' Cup which is played for every China New Year between teams representative of the Marine Engineers and the Shanghai Football Club) has been a great boon to deserving local charities.

The match is usually played on the S.R.C. ground and a charge of one dollar made for admission, the proceeds of the matches going, in turn, to the General Hospital, the Door of Hope, the Shantung Road Hospital and St. Luke's Hospital. By means of this annual match, a sum of no less than $13,980 has so far been distributed between the institutions named, the average for the last three years having been over $1,600. This year the Committee is aiming at raising a sum not less than $2,000, the beneficiary being the Shantung Road Hospital.

The Marine Engineers' Charity Football Cup was given to be competed for in 1909, by the late Mr. C. H. Scott, of "Scotts of Greenock," the world-famous ship building concern. Mr. Scott was visiting Shanghai at the time he presented the Cup. He was of a generous and modest disposition, and steadfastly refused to accede to the request of his friend Mr. John Prentice that the Cup should be known as the "Scott Charity Cup" and chose instead its present title.

Tickets for the match will shortly be on sale, and the public is asked to support a match which, besides giving full value for the price of the ticket, provides much-needed assistance to some of the most deserving institutions in China.

Further announcements regarding the match will be made in the near future.

BILLIARD CLUBS SOON TO START SEASON'S PLAY

Six Entries In League With More To Follow Is The Outlook

Billiards soon will take its prominent place again in the sporting world of Shanghai and the outlook now, according to Mr. R. P. Phillips, secretary of the Inter-Club organisation, is that even greater interest than in the past will be shown this season. Six clubs already have entered including the Masonic Club, Customs Club, Cercle Sportif and the Municipal Service Club.

The municipal players, by the way are expected to make a strong showing as they will have in their team, it is hinted, that redoubtable player Capt. E. I. M. Barrett, several times a contender for the championship of Shanghai. Other teams that are expected to enter are those of the Lusitano and Thirty Clubs which include some of the best players in Shanghai. The Club Lusitano is trying for honors in all branches of sport this season. They have already shown prowess on the football and hockey fields and with the good billiard players, which they possess, they will make their rivals in the inter-club competition this season chalk up every stroke.

As to the Thirty Club, it was handicapped by having only one table for matches and withdrew from the Inter-Club play. It is expected to re-enter this year with a strong team.

Ball Players Of Big Leagues To Be Here Dec. 13

The American big league baseball organisation which has been playing in Japan will arrive in Shanghai on December 13 and the hope is held here that an exhibition game with the Shanghai aggregation may be arranged to take place on the Recreation Ground. The big leaguers sail on December 16 for Manila on the Empress of Asia.

Efforts are already being made by baseball enthusiasts to induce the best of Shanghai's local talent to undertake a period of post-season training, for it is recognised were they to go into play in cold weather without having touched a ball in months a sorry spectacle would be provided.

Numbered among the visiting stars are members of contenders in the World Series, both Giants and Yankees. The Cardinals, Superbas, Indians, and White Sox have contributed of their roster to fill out the team. Saturday the 16th is the only playing date that can be utilised satisfactorily here, it is thought.

Sporting Editor Fails To Get Wilson Interview

Washington, Nov. 4.—All efforts to interview Woodrow Wilson having failed within the last two years, it remained for a sporting editor of a Chicago newspaper to suggest how the silence might be broken. The story is now told of how he queried the Washington bureau of his paper asking for an interview with the former President on Princeton's victory over Chicago at football. The sporting editor's colleagues in Washington were amazed. But not to be outdone they replied in effect "having maintained silence on all matters of international and national concern for more than two years, Woodrow Wilson, commenting on Princeton's victory over Chicago, said: 'May I not?'"

Thus far the sporting editor has not thought of a suitable comeback.

RYCKMAN IS STAR OF MARINES

Legation Footballers Win From 15th Infantry Without Trouble

SCORE IS 27—0

Touchdown In Each Period Spells Defeat For Army Team

The Marines again outplayed the Army in Peking in every department of the game, scoring a touchdown in every quarter, and winning by 27 points to nothing in their second battle of the season.

The Marines' work, training and physical condition were too much for the 15th Infantry.

The Peking goal was never in danger although the 15th essayed a break in the third quarter and took the ball from their own ten yard line right down to the Marines twenty yard line, by a series of good line plunges and forward passing, only to lose it on downs.

Ryckman was again the star of the game. Captain Rattan starred for the 15th Infantry. The match was played in ideal football weather and a big crowd watched it.

Touchdowns were made by Gorman, Frie, Ryckman and goals by Ryckman (3).

Officials of the game were Major Stillwell, Referee: Captain Tenney, Umpire.

CAPT. JOHN SNODGRASS .

Impressive services for the late Captain John Snodgrass, of the Municipal Council Secretariat, were held yesterday afternoon at the Bubbling Well Cemetery before a large gathering of friends, representatives of the Settlemenet Government, and a detachment of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps. Full military honors were accorded the officer who commanded a Gurkha regiment in the Great War and who was recently appointed to a similar position with the Machine Gun Company of the S. V. C.

Pallbearers were eight captains in the local defence corps: A. W. Dixon of the Maritime Company; V. Olsen, American Company; A. J. Stewart, Headquarters; V. Chieri, Italian; G. Grayrigge, Chinese; A. M. Diniz, Portuguese; E. N. Ensor, Customs, and F. J. W. Melville, "B" Company.

The coffin, covered with the Union Jack was borne from the Fearon Road Mortuary to the Cemetery on a gun carriage, followed by the Machine Gun Company. Services at the chapel and the grave were conducted by Reverend C. E. Spencer, Sub Dean of the Holy Trinity Cathedral, and as the body was lowered, the firing squad paid final honors to the departed officer.

Captain Snodgrass was a popular and efficient officer of the Volunteers, a keen sportsman, and in addition was wellknown for his amateur theatrical work here. He has been ill but a week. He is survived by a widow.

The Dog Watch

in 250 yards of the green, his next shot takes him beyond the pin. Never under any circumstance if he can possibly help it does he stop short. "Better thirty feet beyond than 3 feet short" is his motto, and he keeps that maxim everlastingly in mind.

When it is realised that Hagen, like all really great golfers, is practically always dead on the line with his approaches it can be seen why so many of his mashie shots roll into the hole or stop within inches of it. It was because he kept this principle in mind that he required but one putt on nine greens in his final round in the British open.

Hagen is perhaps the greatest player from the rough and from "trouble" that ever lived. Last winter in the Southern Open Championship in the United States he was in trouble no less than twenty-three times in one round, and yet finished with a 72, which was par for the course. Some players, even some great players, become cautious when they get in trouble, and think first of getting out, with the idea of reaching the green a secondary consideration. Not so Hagen. When Walter gets into the rough or when he finds his ball half buried in the sand of a trap or bunker he wades in after it with but one idea in his mind, namely, to dig it out and slam it right up against the pin. He doesn't aim at the green, merely—he aims at the pin, and so great is confidence in himself that he is just as disappointed when his approach doesn't go down as he is when he fails to drop them with his putter. And that applies when he is pitching out of a bunker with his niblick just as much as when pitching from the open fairway with his mashie.

"NEVER UP, never in" is an ancient golfing maxim, and it is one that Walter never forgets. Once, on the Cherry Valley course outside of New York, I saw Hagen playing a foursome with Jim Barnes, former open champion, Jerry Travers, three times amateur champion, and Gene McCarthy, the Cherry Valley "pro." It was a very windy day, much like a week ago Sunday when the Shanghai championship was played, only not so cold, and on every green when they were going against the wind Walter's ball lay farthest away after they had all shot. Once, on a two hundred yard hole with the gale directly in their faces, the other three just managed to reach the near side of the green, with only Hagen well beyond the pin. Result, they all pressed slightly with their butters against the wind and missed, whereas Walter, tapping his ball lightly and figuring the wind to do the rest, rolled in.

That's his system.

NINE HOLES with only one putt on each! Suppose he plays the first nine at Kiangwan with but one putt to a green when he comes here. His score for the nine, assuming that he makes his other shots in the way he is capable of making them, would read like this: 3 3 2 2 3 2 2 3 2—22.

Not likely, of course, and yet such a score is possible for the wonderful Walter.

Artful Dodger London's New Crook Type

(China Press Service)

London.—A modern school of "Artful Dodgers" has grown up in London. Scotland Yard is worried and wondering whether there is some new "Fagin."

Pickpockets are flourishing in London, and the police admit that the modern "dips" are the most rescurceful that they have ever encountered. They are working with great success in the huge elevators that bring passengers up from the subway stations. Crowded busstops are a harvest field for the pickpockets, and even the buses are worked successfully.

The baby is even being used as a decoy. A woman enters a bus and is followed by a pickpocket carrying a child. If the bus is crowded the pickpocket asks the woman to hold the baby, and while changing the child from his arms to those of his victim he generally manages to open purse or lift a brooch.

Aeroplanes flying over London have proven a harvest for the "dips." They point to aeroplanes and make loud exclamations and, when they have a crowd interested ply their trade.

Wallet-snatchers have been most successful during the Summer season, when tourists have crowded the narrow London streets.

Shantung R'way Transfer January 1

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, December 6.—The full text of the Shantung Agreement signed yesterday evening which was published this afternoon consists of 18 Articles, the principal points of which are that Japan agrees to transfer the Shantung Railway on January 1, 1923, completing the transfer of railway properties within one month from that date. China agrees to pay 40,000,000 gold yen as the value of the railway properties in Treasury notes which will be styled Notes of the Shantung Railway bearing interest at six percent and secured on the revenue of that railway.

The railway revenues shall not be used as security for other internal or foreign loans but this does not prevent China from raising an internal loan for the purpose of redeeming these notes if done with the agreement of Japan. If the railway revenue is insufficient to pay the interest on the notes China agrees to raise the interest from other sources. The Treasury notes are freed from all taxation. Japan may transfer the whole or part of the Treasury notes if it suits her convenience.

Japan's Hand Seen In Bandit Raids

(China Press Service)

Tsingtao, Dec. 5.—With reference to the bandit activities in Tsingtao, reports are current that the brigand movement has been instigated by the nationals of a "certain country." The latter are charged with supplying the bandits with ammunition.

Local Japanese newspapers have aroused the indignation of the Chinese people by such captions as "Chinese Residents Frown At the Transfer of Tsingtao," "Yearning for Japanese Administration," etc.

Mr. Sze Li-pan, Commissioner of Foreign Affairs at Tsinan, has made representations to the Japanese Consul, protesting against the capture by bandits of Mr. Chu Shih-ching, Chairman of the Tsingtao Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. Mao Shao-fu, Special Delegate of the Shantung Tuchun on the Sino-Japanese Joint Commission for the restoration of Tsingtao. The protest is based on the ground that the capture took place on November 30, one day before the signing of the agreement embodying the decision of the First Section of the Sino-Japanese Joint Commission.

The Japanese Consul, however, repudiates any responsibility on the ground that the Japanese garrison has been withdrawn to Japan. He is reported to have remarked that if China desires the Japanese authorities at Tsingtao to be responsible for bandit upheavals, the only thing to do will be to send back the Japanese garrison to Tsingtao.

The Japanese authorities are reported to be refusing to cooperate with the Chinese officials. The Chinese troops and police force have been detained by the Japanese troops in barracks since their arrival in Tsingtao on the ground that Chinese troops should not commence patrolling duties until the Japanese forces have been completely withdrawn.

PREMIUM BONDS

Premium Bonds issues are to be encouraged rather than discouraged. They afford an opportunity for frugal investors and the people at large to invest their savings in remunerative and successful enterprises. They bring in closer contact the investors, who in a large degree are employees with the institutions by whom they are employed. They bring about a mutuality of interest and a better understanding between the employers and employees generally.

Opening of a Circus

After having spent a great deal of money, we have succeeded in getting a certain number of bulls that have already arrived in Shanghai; so we shall be able to give the Shanghai public very enjoyable entertainments.

These bulls are absolutely different from the average run of those that are usually shown to the public in other countries at the "Course of Corridas."

All fittings up will be terminated in a few days' time, and the opening will take place on the 8th of December, 1922.

Beside the numbers in which the bulls will take part, there will be numerous attractions that have never yet taken place in Shanghai.

All, Men and Women, the Europeans as well as the Chinese, are welcome.

This Circus is situated on the grounds known as the "Rockfeller Foundation" South to the Rue de l'Observatoire.

Weather Report

Dec. 5.—Very heavy anticyclone, steadily established between the Yangtsze and the Hwangho. The depression issued from China grows very deep, while crossing Nippon. Hard monsoon or gale, to the S. of the 30th parallel westerly winds further North. Very fine day, with sharp cold in China; weather overcast or rainy in the Philippines and Guam.

Dec. 6.—Weather overcast and cold, but fairly good. The pressure is decreasing but still stands above the normal level. Moderate N.Wly winds.

Ship Subsidy Bill Faces Hard Fight

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Dec. 5.—The regular session of Congress opened today. The opposition has abandoned its filibuster against the Anti-Lynching Bill. The Ship Subsidy Bill has been referred to the Senate Commerce Committee.

It is understood that the Senators opposing the Ship Subsidy Bill conferred informally today with a view to a prolonged filibuster against the Bill.

The movement is under the leadership of the Progressives but is supported by most of the Democrats.

Commons Votes To Guarantee Loans

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 5.—In the House of Commons today Mr. Stanley Baldwin, Chancellor of the Exchequer, moved a financial resolution authorising the amending of the Trade Facilities Act by increasing to £50,000,000 the aggregate amount of the loans which could be guaranteed, guaranteeing he Austrian Loan arranged by the League of Nations and guaranteeing the Sudan Government Irrigation Loan.

The debate disclosed hostility to the Austrian Loan, the Communist member, Mr. Newbold, declaring that the last minute effort to save Austria was in the interest of a bondholding clique of unscrupulous rascals.

The Liberal member, Mr. William Pringle, moved an amendment limiting the guarantees to undertaking within the United Kingdom. This was eventually defeated by 295 votes to 196. After a discursive debate which lasted six hours, Mr. Stanley Baldwin's resolution was passed without a division at 5 o'clock in the morning.

The House rejected by 269 votes to 207 a Liberal amendment to the Address demanding the repeal of the Safeguarding of Industries Act as a protectionist measure. The division is interesting as it is indicative of the attitude of the National Liberals. The minority consisted of Labourites, Liberals, 20 National Liberals, and 4 Conservatives, while 35 National Liberals in-

Exchange Fluctuations
Asia Banking Corporation

December 6, 1922

Spot bar silver was up ¼d. and forward ⅛d. in London yesterday. The New York price advanced to 65⅛ cents and the London-New York cross rate to 455.

Our official rates here this morning at the opening were unchanged from yesterday but the Sterling rate was subsequently raised to 3-2, the Gold Dollar rate to 72, the Yen rate dropped to 67⅜ and the other rates changed in proportion.

Our market was just steady throughout the day. Some bisiness in Sterling was done as high as 3-2 3-16 for December-January delivery but there were at all times good buyers at these rates.

At the close there were no sellers at better than 3-2 1-16 for December, 3-2 for January and 3-1⅞ for forward. Gold Dollars at one time were done as high as 72⅝ for forward delivery but at the close there were no sellers at better than 72¼ for December and 72⅜ for forward, with buyers at ⅛ point higher.

There were sellers of Yen at the close at 67⅝ and buyers at 67⅜. Banks were quoting 3-2¾ for Sterling bills, 74 for Gold Dollar bills and 1070 for Franc bills.

India bought silver in London yesterday and the market is reported as closing steady. No advices have as yet been received from New York regarding their market there yesterday but advice of December 4 quote the market then as being steady with more buyers than sellers at the official rate.

The Porcelain Industry In Hunan

Lilin, a district in Eastern Hunan, is the center of the porcelain industry in the province, and employs many of the inhabitants of such neighboring rural districts as Weishon, Chitsolin Looyashan, Tsachilin. Formerly, porcelain valued at several hundred thousand dollars annually were exported to other provinces; but in 1920 the industry was brought almost to a standstill in consequence of the tightness of the money market and the military operations in the neighboring provinces. There were formerly about three hundred factories but by the end of 1920, the majority of them had closed down owing to the losses sustained through poor business. This condition of affairs was further aggravated by the unprecedentedly severe famine which afflicted certain parts of the province in the spring of last year.

An attempt to resuscitate the business was made last autumn by a group of persons who had formerly worked in the porcelain factories as wage-earners. Their efforts were at first very poorly remunerated but towards the end of the year, there were prospects of a revival of the trade. The reasons which may bring this about are the reduction of the likin rate and the depreciation of the Hunan paper currency.

In former years, likin was imposed at such a rate that it proved ruinous to the porcelain trade in Hunan. For instance, when a shipment of porcelain was exported to a neighboring province, it had to pass through a series of likin stations, at each one of which a certain amount of duty under a variety of names was collected. The total amount of such extortionate levies was often as high as fifty percent of the value of the goods. On the petition of the manufacturers and other classes of people at Lilin, the Hunan Financial Bureau reduced the charge to between ten and fifteen percent and this has relieved the Hunan porcelain manufacturers to such an extent that they are now able to carry on the trade in spite of unfavorable business conditions.

The depreciation of the paper currency in Hunan also temporarily improved the financial position of the manufacturers, although later it proved highly detrimental to the interest of the laborers. The manufacturers sold their wares in the neighboring provinces in silver dollars, but paid their laborers on the basis of the Cash. In view of the depreciation of notes, the dollar exchange rate became high. A dollar was sometimes exchanged at 1,900 Cash, the effect being that the factory hands pressed for a general rise in wages.

The rise in the price of a certain kind of imported pigment is another obstacle to the improvement of the porcelain industry. This pigment is used by the manufacturers in painting their wares. It is imported from England by Japanese merchants and in former years was sold on the China market at $34 per chest. Recently the price has gone up to $70—380. In this connection a suggestion is being discussed that as the pigment is not a native product of Japan but is imported from England, it is advisable for the manufacturers to organise a syndicate to import the article from either England or the United States directly, in order that the excessive cost might be curtailed. — Chinese Bureau of Economic Information.

Soldiers Of Peace

(Christian Science Monitor)

ONE of the most remarkable, and it is to be hoped effective, appeals for the advancement of the era of peace comes, not from pacificists but from the spokesman of 9,000,000 of men who were under arms in the Great War. Before their departure for their respective countries after their participation in the annual convention of the American Legion, the representatives of organisations of European war veterans, in conjunction with Alvin Owsley, the new commander of the Legion, signed a document which is bound to become historic. It was a Magna Charta of peace that these soldiers signed. Some of the provisions of this twentieth century Magna Charta are as follows:

That all international agreements among governments affecting the entire people shall be open and aboveboard; with full publicity.

To oppose territorial aggrandisement.

That an international court be established to outlaw war.

To proceed as rapidly as conditions permit and when the decrees of such courts become operative. . . entirely to disarm and disband sea and air forces and destroy the implements of warfare.

Of course, the framers of this program have no expectation of its immediate adoption by all the millions concerned. But they have given the impetus to the most comprehensive program of mental and material disarmament ever contemplated by men who only four years ago considered it their duty to fight, and who prosecuted the war with every mental and material resource. As Mr. Owsley says in commenting on the scope and prospects of the world-wide movement:

It may not result in immediate effects, but when these men grow to positions of power in their governments, they will try to do what they can to meet their comrades of other nations on the footing of friendship. I think these resolutions mean much for the future peace of the world.

Mr. Owsley is eminently right. No word that has been contributed to the international movement for disarmament has carried the weight that inheres in these resolutions passed by the men who fought the war.

Millions of peace-lovers throughout the world—peacelovers who, nevertheless, stood loyally behind the fighting ranks of the nations during war—will greet the vision of these younger men as the rainbow of promise. Decidedly, and to an inspiring degree, these resolutions "mean much for the peace of the world!"

THE VOYAGE

I have rigged me a barque of Dreams,
And with slant sails wide unfurled
I would glide over dimpling streams,
In quest of a wonder world;
I would make for the Bourn of Joy
Set in a shining sea;
Till the hail-man cries "ahoy,"
Come and voyage with me!

I have banked the decks of my barque
With bloom of the lily and rose;
For guide through the purple dark
There shall be a star that glows—
Glows with a radiance bright
To light the ways of the sea;
To the port beyond the night
Come and voyage with me!

Though it lies in the ultimate waste,
And though it be far—so far—
With all of the winds of haste
We will follow the path of the star.
It will lead our hearts at last
Beyond the vast of the sea;
To the haven of Sorrows past
Come and voyage with me!

THE CHINA MERCHANTS' ROW

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir: The China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company is the only great Chinese shipping company in China. Judging from the newspaper reports it is perhaps due to the lack of co-operative spirit among the shareholders and to the various attempted interferences of the Government with the company's administration that the scope of its business has been limited. It is sincerely to be hoped that all the shareholders of the company will henceforth stand united and will themselves rectify any existing ills and make their own plans for the extension of their shipping activities.

In order to avoid further attempts at nationalisation and mortgaging of the company by the Government, the latter ought to help the company in a practical business point of view instead of with meaningless interferences for hidden political purposes. Will it not be glorious for the Government and Company as well as the people to see that the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company will one day have a regular schedule of sailing of their steamers between the East and West?

Hoping you will kindly insert the above in your esteemed paper and thanking you in advance, Yours truly,

L. B. YUI.

THE ZIONIST CAUSE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir.—The progress of the world can only be seen when viewed in cycles. To those who are struggling amid the dust and the din, the progress is not noticeable. Sometimes, however, an incident occurs that reveals momentarily as by a lightning flash that the world is not standing still.

The attack on Zionism by Lord Islington in the House of Lords as cabled by Reuter and published in your today's issue reminds us that "the world is not standing still." It was to be expected that the foundation of a new civilisation in Asia will be heralded with opposition and resistance. The conservative press in England is clamoring for a change of policy in Palestine, stressing the point that it would be best for England to leave Palestine alone in the face of the unrest and the dissatisfaction prevalent among the native population.

On the other hand, it is pointed out by the more rational of the conservatives that it would be a dangerous matter for England to withdraw its troops from Palestine now, after a number of Jews have settled in the country on the assurance of the protection of England. It is further pointed out by the liberal press that Palestine is necessary for Great Britain's policy in the East and that the Arabs are not to be trusted, as they have shown themselves to be disloyal to Britain.

Lord Islington's allegation against the "present Zionist system of administration of Palestine" is difficult to follow. There is not a scintilla of truth in this. Zionist "system of administration of Palestine" is the mere figment of the imagination. The recent White Paper issued by Winston Churchill shows that it is shorn of any such power delegated to the Zionists. The agitation of the "die-hards" against the Zionists is bound to fail in the end, although it retards the understanding between the Jews and the Arabs. The latter, if left alone and not incited by busybodies, would come to terms with the former in the not distant future.

The Arabian Freemasons have addressed an open appeal to the population of Palestine, and fraternity, to stop persecution of their Jewish kinsmen and brothers, according to the recent copy of the London Freemason. The appeal is addressed from the National Grand Lodge of Egyptian Arabs to Imams and the depositaries of the Holy Law, to the spiritual heads of all other religions, Christians, Jews, etc., without any distinction of rite, faith, race, or nationality. It refers to Canada and Switzerland as examples of countries occupied by people of diverse races who live together in unity to their mutual advantage.

It is difficult to believe how misguided statesmen can turn the wheels of civilisation backward. It was Lord Robert Cecil who said that the late war has accomplished two outstanding things, namely, the Balfour Declaration and the League of Nations. Happily the best minds of England do not support misguided attempts to overthrow the best that is yet to be. It would be impossible for England to regard the Balfour Declaration as a "scrap of paper" without compromising the stability and reliability of the British Government. Col. Josiah Wedgwood, M.P., vice-President of the British Labor party, may be taken to interpret the soul and essence of the British nation, when he says: "The Balfour Declaration has become an integral part of British foreign policy and no party will declare itself against it. . . . The Labor Party is firm for the complete and speedy realisation of a policy which shall enable the unhindered development of Palestine as the national home of the Jewish people. The party is opposed to all restrictions on immigration and is in favor of a libertal constitution which shall be in the interest of the general population and of the Zionist cause."

The future of Palestine means much to us. On it the future of our nation closely hinges. It is the beginning of the realization of the dreams of centuries and the beginnings of mighty things. The recent progress achieved in Palestine, in spite of all opposition and drawback, has been immense. If England turns back and listens to the admonition of the reactionary forces, there will be a temporary setback to our progress, but salvation and deliverance will come from unexpected quarters. But England, true to her traditional policy of helping the weak and the oppressed nations will not commit such a suicidal policy. She will yet aid in laying the foundation of a new civilisation in Asia and enable the ancient Jewish people to bring back into the world those ideals which have been the fountain source of civilisation. I am, etc.,

N. E. B. EZRA.

ARE YOU LIVING BEYOND YOUR POCKETBOOK?

After you have associated for sometime with persons who have much more in the way of worldly goods than you possess and you have been doing the things they do, have you not almost believed that it is possible for you to continue along with them?

You have this feeling despite the fact that what they spend is a mere trifle to their income in comparison to what it represents of your own income.

You are enjoying yourself, and you feel that you would not be happy and contented if compelled to mingle with any other friends than those with whom you now associate.

You are going beyond your means and you have not enough self-will to drop out.

What about the final show-down, for it is bound to come?

You will not always support your end, for you can't.

You are "keeping up appearances," but where does it get you?

Better begin to retrench and gradually pull away from what you know you should not be doing.

Japanese Plans In China

Note: The following is courteously transmitted to us by the Japanese consulate general:

The Japanese Government on May 27, 1922, announced that the Japanese garrison at Hankow would be promptly withdrawn. In accordance with this decision all the Japanese troops were withdrawn from Hankow on July 2, 1922.

At the Washington Conference the Japanese Delegation announced that the military radio apparatus in the barracks of the Japanese garrison at Hankow would be disposed of at the time of the withdrawal of troops, and in accordance with this announcement the Japanese Government is making preparations to pull down the whole wireless equipment. As to the barracks, accessory buildings and the land on which they are situated, part of them will be lent to the local Japanese residents to be used as a playground, club or public hall; other parts will be lent to the To-a Dobun Kai for the purpose of enlarging an educational institution having as its object the promotion of Sino-Japanese culture and welfare.

ABOLITION OF POST-OFFICES

The Japanese Government will abolish the Japanese Post-Offices in China by January 1, 1923, in accordance with the resolution adopted at the Washington Conference concerning foreign postal agencies in China. But the communication between Japan and China is so peculiarly close and extensive that it is desirable to conclude—in order to save both countries the inconveniences arising from the abolition of the Japanese Post-offices—a special agreement looking to a reduction of charges and an improvement of postal arrangements on the basis of the Universal Postal Convention, and to carry such special agreement into effect before the Japanese post-offices are abolished. It was considered necessary to confer with the Chinese authorities regarding these and other matters connected with the abolition of Japanese post-offices; and with these objects in view the Japanese Government proposed to the Chinese Government that the Governments of Japan and China appoint delegates to hold a conference. The Chinese Government agreed to the proposal, and the negotiations were opened at Peking on August 18, 1922. The negotiations have been steadily progressing, and we expect that they will be concluded in a very short time. The special postal agreement mentioned above relates to ordinary mail, parcel post, letters and parcel boxes with declared values, and postal money orders.

EVACUATION OF SHANTUNG

The Treaty for the Settlement of Outstanding Questions Relative to Shantung, signed at Washington on February 4, 1922, provides: "The Japanese troops, including gendarmes, now stationed along the Tsingtau-Tsinanfu Railway and its branches shall be withdrawn as soon as the Chinese police or military force shall have been sent to take over the protection of the Railway" and further that "The entire withdrawal of such Japanese troops shall be effected within three months, if possible, and, in any case, not later than six months, from the date of the signature of the present Treaty." The Treaty also provided that "The Japanese garrison at Tsingtau shall be completely withdrawn simultaneously, if possible, with the transfer to China of the administration of the former German Leased Territory of Kiaochow, and, in any case, not later than thirty days from the date of such transfer."

Pursuant to the letter and spirit of these provisions of the treaty, the Japanese Government withdrew the troops from along the Railway with the least possible delay. On March 27 an agreement for carrying out the withdrawal was concluded at Peking with the Chinese Government, and the withdrawal was effected on May 5, that is, three months after the signature of the Treaty—that is to say, within the shortest period provided for in the treaty. All the troops along the railway had been completely withdrawn by the above-mentioned date, and by May 9 they had been sent home via Tsingtau. As the Japanese troops withdrew Chinese guards were placed along the railway; and since that time they have been discharging their duties, fortunately, in a satisfactory manner.

As to the withdrawal of troops garrisoned in Tsingtau, it will be promptly effected in accordance with the provisions of the Washington Treaty when this is rendered possible by the progress of the detailed negotiations now proceeding at Peking.

A Universe That Looks Like A Cloud

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority On Subjects Of Scientific Interest

Extremely interesting news about one of the most distant and remarkable objects in the visible universe has just been announced by the Harvard Observatory. At the Arequipa station, situated high in the Peruvian Andes, the observatory has one of the most powerful photographic telescopes in existence, under the direction of Professor Solon I. Bailey.

Studies with this instrument, called the Bruce telescope, have revealed the existence of a number of globular star-clusters around the strange luminous mass known as the Greater Magellanic Cloud, and from estimates of the parallax of these clusters a calculation has been made of the distance and size of the Magellanic Cloud itself.

The distance comes out about 110,000 light-years, or say 640,000 trillions of miles. Since the sun is only 93 million miles away, we see that the Magellanic Cloud is about 6,880,000,000 (nearly seven billion) times as far from us as the sun is! Owing to its vast distance we, of course, do not see this wonderful object as it actually is, but it was when the light now entering our eyes left it 110,000 years, or 1,100 centuries, ago.

For all that we can tell, enormous changes may have occurred in it about the time that the earliest representatives of man appeared on the earth, but the story of such changes, flying hitherward at a speed of 186,000 miles per second, has not even yet reached us.

Such things as this give a striking illustration of some of the consequences of relativity, without any dependence upon Einstein's theory. They show that when distances become large we do not see things happen when they really do happen, for our observations may be hundreds of thousands of years behind the events. But surely our knowledge of an occurrence has nothing to do with the actual time of it. Because there being then no Atlantic cable, news of the battle of Waterloo reached America weeks after it was fought, that did not change the real date of the battle. We have to have an absolute time standard, for without it all chronology would be chaos.

From the distance of the Great Magellanic Cloud its size may be calculated. It is about 7½ degrees in angular diameter. Now, any object presenting an angular diameter of 7½ degrees must be at a distance 7.64 times its real diameter from the observer. So, dividing 110,000 light years, the distance of the Magellanic Cloud, by 7.64 we get 14,400 light years for the diameter of the great Cloud. This corresponds to about 84,000 trillions of miles, which is a greater breadth than many estimates have given for the entire span of the Milky Way.

That being so, there seems to be much reason for regarding the Magellanic Cloud as a separate stellar system, or another "universe," as large as, or larger than, ours. The question whether such outer systems, or "island universes," exist is one of the most important now under discussion by astronomers whose attention is fixed upon the problem of the make-up, or structure of the universe.

Harlow Shapley, the director of the Harvard Observatory, has been disposed to regard all the objects that have thus far been discovered by telescopic vision, or photography, as possibly, in some manner, associated with the galactic star system whose central plane is indicated by the Milky Way. These objects include star-clusters, both globular and scattered, and nebulae, both diffuse and spiral, etc.

If they are all parts of one great system then, of course, we have to deal with but a single universe, of enormous extent. On the other hand, if such objects as the Great Magellanic Cloud are independent of the galactic system, then there may be, within our ken, not only two, but many, separate "universe systems."

In that case our own system would be limited to objects unquestionably associated with the galaxy, and its outer limits would be situated at a distance perhaps one-tenth as great as would be required to include those clouds of stars and nebulae.

One of the singular facts developed by Shapley's investigations is that great globular star-clusters appear to be arranged on either side of the plane of the galactic system, and to be moving toward it. Moreover there seems reason to think that when these clusters get near the galactic plane their stars become scattered. Now, curiously enough, the observations of the Magellanic Cloud appear to show that, like the galactic system, it has globular clusters around it but none in the midst of it.

Many of the stars in the cloud are of enormous magnitude—individually at least ten thousand times as bright as our sun.

In The U. S. Court For China

E. Y. Kamorovsky, Plaintiff, v. Hartford Fire Insurance Co., American Foreign Insurance Assn., Defendants.
Cause No. 1606
Civil No. 554
Judgment filed Dec. 5, 1922.

SYLLABUS
(By the Court)

1. Insurance: Bailment. Where a bailee insures the bailor's goods at the latter's request and upon his payment of the premiums, the property being described as held "in trust," etc., the proceeds of the policy in case of loss accrue to the bailor less any amounts due the bailee.

2. Id.: Id.: Parties. In such case the bailor may sue the insured directly for the amount due the former under the policy.

3. Id.: Id.: Garnishment. A judgment creditor of the bailee, whose insolvency is admitted is entitled to have such portion of the proceeds as are due said bailee applied on the judgment.

4. Stare Decisis: The doctrine of The Chinese Maritime Customs v. The American-Oriental Banking Corporation reaffirmed.

Messrs. Williams, Franklin and Faison for the plaintiff.

Messrs. Davies and Bryan by Mr. Davies for the intervenor.

No appearance for defense.

Lobingier, J.

This is an action on a policy of fire insurance issued by the principal defendant in favor of a corporation known as the Russian Lloyd Steamship and Transport Company, on certain typographical machinery:

All

"The above being the property of the insured or held by them in trust, or on commission or on joint account with others and/or for which they are responsible, or sold and paid for but not delivered, stored or to be stored during the currency of this policy in the iron built and iron roofed one storied Godown of mixed construction known as Topaz Godown."

(Ex. B.)

During the life of the policy the insured property was damaged, an arbitration fixed the amount due on another policy was fixed leaving defendant's pro rata share as Yen 3,874.33 and the insurer in its answer alleges its willingness to pay the amount of the loss to the party entitled thereto.

It is undisputed that plaintiff was the owner of the insured property, that the policy was taken out by his direction (Ex. C) and that he paid the premiums. It is well settled that under such conditions he is entitled to the proceeds of the policy less any amount due from him to the nominal insured. (1) The words "in trust" in such a policy as this are used "in a mercantile sense" (2). They do not mean "goods held in trust in the technical sense . . . but goods with which they were intrusted in the ordinary sense" (3).

The insurance on such goods though taken in the name of the bailee, is for the benefit of the owner, who is consequently the real party in interest and may sue the insured directly. This is, consequently, not a case of re-insurance nor of a policy issued by the bailee itself, but merely one of insurance taken out by such bailee for the bailor's benefit.

As the bailee is not a party to this proceeding, and apparently makes no claim to the proceeds of the policy, there would be little need of elaborating upon the privity of contract between plaintiff and defendants were it not for the fact that a judgment creditor of the nominal insured sought and obtained the right to intervene in this cause by virtue of its judgment. In effect the intervenor, which is a Russian concern, seeks a garnishment of the proceeds of the policy to the extent of its judgment. But it is entitled to so much only as belongs to the nominal insured and the only competent evidence before the court on that point is plaintiff's admission that he owes the nominal insured the sum of Yen 950, presumably for storage and expenses connected therewith. Now the judgment upon which the intervenor relies was obtained against the nominal insured for the storage apparently of the goods in question. It would seem therefore entirely equitable to direct that so much of the amount in question as plaintiff admits is due the nominal insured should be applied on the intervenor's judgment. Such application is within the doctrine of a recent decision (5) of this court; for the judgment appears to have been rendered by a recognised and lawful Chinese tribunal and there is no suggestion of impeaching it. And while the judgment debtor is not subject to the jurisdiction of this Court the defendant, who admits owing the money, can be required to pay it to the party or parties entitled thereto. Such procedure not only avoids delay and circuity of action but in this case appears imperative by reason of plaintiff's averment of the nominal insured's insolvency and testimony that the latter has done no business for a year and a half.

It is accordingly considered and adjudged that the injunction heretofore granted restraining defendants from paying a part of said proceeds be dissolved and that plaintiff have and recover from defendants the sum of Yen 2,924.33 being the amount due on said policy of insurance less the sum of Yen 950, admitted by plaintiff to be due the nominal insured and which sum the defendants are adjudged to pay to the intervenor by virtue of its judgment against the said insured. There will be no award of costs to any of the parties.

By the Court,
CHARLES S. LOBINGIER,
Judge.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician knowing of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria.

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D.
Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D.
Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCANN, M. D.
Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and advise its use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very useful, as well as harmless family medicine."

Marcel, Inventor Of Wave, Is Honored

(British Press Service)

Paris, Oct. 12.—A seven days' exhibition of the hair-dresser's art was opened today at Luna Park, in connection with the fete in honor of M. Marcel, the inventor of hair-waving. The program includes lectures on beauty treatment, a "make-up" competition, and other details of importance to the outward and visible manifestation of the fair sex.

M. Gaston Vidal, Chef de Cabinet to M. Dior, Minister of Commerce, and other distinguished persons, including M. Marcel himself, a little old gentleman of seventy, well set up and groomed, were present at the opening. M. Marcel attributes his renown to his mother. "It is to her," he says, "that I owe the discovery of hair-waving. She had beautiful hair, and I tried to reproduce its waviness on the heads of other women. Perhaps, also, it is due to the fact that I was self-taught."

The Minister of Public Instruction will preside in person at next Sunday's banquet, the fiftieth anniversary of hair-waving, when M. Marcel will be presented with a marole bust of himself.

Trouble Brewing At Canton, Belief

(China Press Service)

Hongkong, Nov. 28.—The "Morning Post" states that it is not safe for pedestrians to walk the streets of Canton at night for fear of the soldiery, according to reports brought to Hongkong by local business men.

Though these soldiers still wear their uniforms, and mostly carry side-arms and guns, they engage in robbery at night-time, holding up inoffensive pedestrians. On some occasions they have robbed passengers on the buses and assaulted the conductors.

All the banks and most of the local shops are doubly guarded The gates at the banks are kept locked and people are only allowed to go in singly, the armed guards opening and closing the gates for each individual. It is known that a large amount of arms have been recently smuggled into the city, and the belief prevails that there is mischief afoot.

Pao Kwei-ching, who has for some time been mediating between the rival militarists, Gen. Chang Tso-lin now is willing to restore the rolling-stock of the Peking-Sui-yuan Railway and to release the salt revenue collected in the Three Eastern Provinces.

This will be done only on condition that the Central Government first issue a mandate appointing him Tupan or Director-General of the Military Rehabilitation in Manchuria. The report adds that Gen. Pao has left today for Paotingfu to sound Gen. Tsao Kun regarding Gen. Chang's proposal.

Chang Still Rules Eastern Provinces

(China Press Service)

Mukden, November 23.—The division of civil from military power is being effectively carried out in the three Manchurian provinces. Kirin now has its own governor in the person of Mr. Kwei Hsin-chia and its own Commissioner of Foreign Affairs, Mr. Tsai. All civil and diplomatic affairs are being handled by the Kirin's own authorities, although Marshal Chang Tso-lin is still supreme in his military command over the entire area.

Another regiment of troops has been disbanded by Marshal Chang. More than 1,000 infantrymen belonging to the reserve regiment of the fifth mixed brigade have been sent away, while the remainder, numbering several hundred who are able to read and write, are retained to fill the vacancies in other brigades. The officers of the regiment were given one month's extra salary and discharged.

STUDENTS WRATHY

(China Press Correspondence)

Chungking, Szechuan., Dec. 5.—The students here held a demonstration parade this afternoon as a protest against the Pienma controversy alleged to be pending between the British and Chinese authorities. They advocate the boycott of British goods.

When the paraders passed a British firm in Pahchang Street, a Britisher fired a gun with a view to dispersing the procession. Although no one was injured, the students, exasperated by the action of the Britisher, arrested him and handed him to the Chinese police.

The Britisher, however, was immediately released upon the protest of the British Consul.

Britain Is Trying To Suppress Opium

(Reuter's Service)

London, Dec. 5.—The Home Office has issued a statement reviewing the action taken by the British Government under the International Opium Convention in British Colonies. The statement emphasises the steady and continuous effort made during the last ten years to reduce the practice of opium-smoking in British Colonies and Protectorates where it is prevalent.

The general policy has been to exercise close control over the trade, to bring the average consumption within moderate limits and, as far as possible, to prevent the illicit introduction of supplies.

In conclusion the statement says that it does not seem possible to go further as long as production and distribution is unchecked in neighboring countries and complete suppression can only be attained by simultaneous measures in all the countries concerned.
